Six Demotic Inscriptions on Stone from Tuna el-Gebel

MAHMOUD EBEID

HE SIX demotic inscriptions published here are engraved on limestone objects,<sup>1</sup> or on limestone blocks<sup>2</sup> (nos 1, 2, 6) or stelae<sup>3</sup> (nos 3, 4, 5). They were found in Tuna el-Gebel necropolis. The first two objects (nos 1, 2) were found during Cairo University excavations carried out by S. Gabra and others, while no. 3 was found during the excavations of the joint archaeological mission of Cairo and Munich Universities in season 2004. Nos 4, 5, 6 were found during the excavations of Munich University in seasons 1980 and 1983. The original place where nos 1, 2 (Inv. no. 1728/258, Inv. no. 1489/774, 29/s.s.) were found is unknown. According to the acronym s. s—"south-sector"— registered on the second object, they might have been found in the area of the funerary houses to the south of the tomb of Petosiris. They are kept now in el-Ashmonein magazine. As for TG 5275 (no. 3), it was found in a secondary Roman stone tomb (tomb no. 3) to the west of the wall of the tomb no. 1, and at the north eastern corner of the tomb of Dd-Dhwty îw=f^cnh on the eastern side of the galleries, and kept now in Tuna el-Gebel magazine.<sup>4</sup> As for TG 433, TG 109 and TG 428 (nos 4, 5, 6), they were

I am grateful to Prof. Dr M.A.A Nur El-Din, Prof. Dr D. Kessler, the team work of the joint archaeological mission of Cairo and Munich Universities in Tuna el-Gebel situation, to Prof. Dr O. El-Aguizy, and to my colleague Dr M. S. Ali, for their help and encouragement. For the photographs I would like to thank Mr P. Brose (Munich University). My thanks are also due to Prof. Dr S. P. Vleeming who has read my

- manuscript and presented some useful corrections, suggestions and comments that I have included in my article.

found in the subterranean galleries (gallery C-C-4) of the sacred animals (Ibiotapheion), and kept also in Tuna el-Gebel magazine.

Owing to the bad condition of these pieces, some strokes in the inscriptions could easily be confused during the preparation of the facsimiles with the natural faults of the stone surface.

Limestone block

Inv. No.: 1728/258.

Provenance: Tuna el-Gebel necropolis, area of the funerary houses (?).

Material: Limestone.

Dimensions: Height: 9 cm; Width: 25,5 cm; Thickness: 6 cm.

Bibliography: Unpublished.

Content: Votive inscription.5

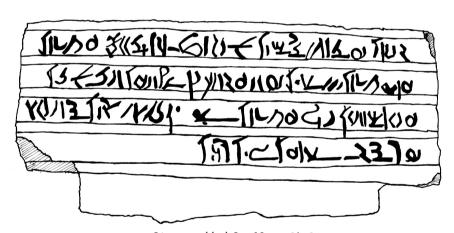

Late Ptolemaic period or early Roman period according to the script, but the Dating:

early Roman period is more plausible here on account of the place in which the block was found.

Description: Rectangular block of limestone with an engraved demotic text of four lines; the text on the block is in a good state of preservation.

- [143/1420] p3 '.wy-htp, [p3 '.wy n htp], the resting place, see W. Erichsen, Demotisches Glossar, Kopenhagen, 1954, p. 340; J. Ray, The Archive of Hor, EES Texts 2, 1976, p. 139-140; P. W. Pestman, The Archive of the Theban Choachytes (Second Century B.C.). A Survey of the Demotic and Greek Papyri Contained in the Archive, Stud.Dem. 2, 1993, § 23b [iii], p. 466; G. Vittmann, "Das demotische Graffito vom Satettemple auf Elephantine", MDAIK 53, 1997, p. 268, n.i.

In this text p3 '.wy-htp refers to the subterranean galleries of the sacred animals in Tuna el-Gebel (Ibiotapheion), see G. R. Hughes, "The Cruel Father. A Demotic Papyrus in the Library of G. Michaelides", in Studies in Honor of John A. Wilson, SAOC 35, 1969, p. 48,3-4; O.M. El-Hussein Zaghloul, Frühdemotische Urkunden aus Hermupolis, BCPS 2, 1985, p. 28, 2-3.

- In the subterranean galleries of Tuna el-Gebel large numbers of the sacred animals are buried (baboons, falcons, snakes, shrews, etc.); they are all referred to as p3 ntr,6 while the official name of the subterranean galleries in Tuna el-Gebel necropolis is "the resting place of the ibis, the baboon, the falcon and the gods who rest with them".

- Simple 3(4) swrd (n) p3 hb, caretaker (of) the Ibis. The same title was mentioned in P. Louvre E 3333, 3 [****] and P. Louvre E 3334, 1 [****] and read by J. Ray as swt, embalmer, see J. Ray, "The Complaint of Herieu", RdE 29, 1979, p. 107, p. 110. But now the reading swrd/swrd/swrt is preferred, see K.-Th. Zauzich, "Einige Bemerkungen zu den demot. papyri Louvre E. 3333 und E. 3334", Enchoria 7, 1977, p. 122; id., "Ein Zug nach Nubien unter Amasis", in J. Pezin, "Hor, fils de Labys, φροντιστής / swrd d'Hathor de Dendera, en 98", RdE, 43, 1992, p. 214; The Demotic Dictionary of the Oriental Insitute of the University of Chicago, online version, CDD H (01.1): p. 38.

6 M. EBEID, "Demotic Inscriptions from the Galleries of Tuna el-Gebel", BIFAO 106, 2006, p. 58; as for the various sacred animals and birds which were buried in the galleries of Tuna el-Gebel, see D. Kessler, M.A. Nur El-Din, "Tuna al-Gebel. Millions of Ibises and Other Animals", in S. Ikram (ed.), Divine Creatures. Animal Mummies in Ancient Egypt, Cairo, 2005, p. 152-163; A. Von den

7 D. Kessler, M.A. Nur El-Din, op. cit, p. 137; as well as the previous name and others, in dem. Pap. Cairo 24/11/62/2, ro.6, dem. Pap. Cairo

24/II/62/3, r°.6, another name of the subterranean galleries in Tuna el-Gebel necropolis is mentioned as follows: p3 '.wy-htp n p3 hb p3 ''n nty ir imnt n hmnw, the resting place of the Ibis and the Monkey, which is in the west of Hermopolis, see A. FARID, "Two Demotic Annuity Contracts", in Studies in Honor of Ali Radwan, CASAE 34/I, 2005, p. 326, p. 342.

- As for the formula n3 ntr.w p3 '.wy-htp di.t 'nh n swrd (n) p3 hb P3-di-p3-hb s3 P3y-Wsir (?) irm n3y=f rmt(.w) dr=w, the gods (of) the resting place give life to caretaker (of) the Ibis P3-di-p3-hb son of P3y-Wsir and all his people. [God X gives life to N.N.], as a formula of the votive inscriptions, see S. P. Vleeming, op. cit, § 1, p. 250-253.

• Line 2-3

name P3-di-p3-hb s3 P3y-Wsir (?), P3-di-p3-hb son of P3y-Wsir. For the personal name P3-di-p3-hb see Demot. Nb. I/5, p. 306; for the personal name P3y-Wsir (?) (1) although the first element of the name resembles the article p3, the reading p3y seems more likely here especially that the article p3 occurs in each line of the text in a rounded form; as for the name P3y-Wsir, cf. P3-Wsir, Demot. Nb. I/5, p. 360; Demot. Nb. I/8, fraglisches, p. 549; and cf. P3y-Wsir (?), Demot. Nb. I/8, fraglisches, p. 566 (for the corrected hand facsimile of this name, see Demot. Nb. I/18, p. 180).

P3-di-p3-hb son of P3y-Wsir and all his people are the owners and donors of the dedicatory object.

– The sign  $\mathbf{v}$  which follows the personal name P:y-Wsir (?) is written in a rounded form like the rounded forms of the article p:z in the text, so it could be read as  $\{p:z\}$  which ought to be inserted here.

i.ir di.t ir=w p3 '(.wy)-p(s>y m-b3h p3 hb İs.t , who have let the bakery be made before the Ibis (and) Isis; i.ir di.t ir=w p3 '(.wy)-p(s>y is a relative clause followed by passive form, in which the antecedent – P3-di-p3-hb son of P3y-Wsir and all his people donors of the dedicatory object – is identical to the subject.

In this text the vivifying gods are "the gods of the resting place", while the gods to whom the bakery was donated are the Ibis and Isis, for further information on this formula in the votive inscriptions see, S.P.Vleeming, op. cit, § 3, p. 254-255.

As for the writing way of p3 (.wy)-p(s>y), the bakery, see W. Erichsen, Demotisches Glossar, p. 53, p. 139.<sup>8</sup> As for the writing way of p3 (.wy) - p(s>y), one can observe that  $\cup(x)$  was written without the house determinative  $\cup(x)$  at the end, and the oblique stroke on the vertical sign is a natural fault on the stone surface. The determinative of the word p(s>y) [ $\cup(x)$ ] depicting the brazier with flame rising from it  $\cup(x)$  runs in favour of the meaning bakery.

The inscription on this block commemorated erection of this bakery – the dedicatory object – for the production of the bread used for offerings in the necropolis.

8 The reading p3 '.wy -psy [p3 '.wy (n) psy], the bakery, the bake house, the house of baking, the house of cooking, was first established by G. Mattha, see G. Mattha, "The Word for 'Bake House' in the Demotic Texts", Miscellanea Gregoriana, 1941, p. 133-134; G. Mattha,

"The αρτοκοπεῖον in Demotic Texts", BIFAO 45, 1945, p. 59-60; and see also Fr. De Cenival, Papyrus démotiques de Lille (III), MIFAO 110, 1984, p. 49-50,4,1.

– As for the vertical sign f and its variant forms, it is problematic in Tuna el-Gebel demotic inscriptions, because it could be read sh and n-tr.t. But the exact reading and meaning of the sign depends on the nature and the context of the text.

In the votive inscriptions preposition n-tr.t is usually followed by the name of the donor of the votive object. In this text Dd-hr son of Dhwty-mn volsion who bears the rank "the priest of Îy-m-htp, the Great, son of Ptah" who made the dedicatory object for the donors, is mentioned after n-tr.t. He might be one of the responsibles for the Ibis organization in Tuna el-Gebel necropolis. As for the personal name Dhwty-mn, see Demot. Nb. I/17, p. 1303.

Commentary

• Line 1

As for the dating "Year 35, Mechir, <day> 5", it might refer to the year 35 of the reign of Emperor Augustus [30 Jan.-31 Jan. 5-6 AD] who ruled between 30 BC-14 AD<sup>12</sup>.

- Line 2
  - As for the name Hr-nd-it=f ) (3) see, Demot. Nb. I/II, p. 825-826.

3. Limestone tomb stela<sup>14</sup> TG 5275

Provenance: Roman tomb no. 3 (to the east of the galleries), season 2004.

Material: Limestone.

Dimensions: Height: 27 cm; Width: 25 cm;

Maximum Thickness: 8 cm.

Bibliography: Unpublished.

Content: Votive inscription.

Dating: Early Roman.

Description: Limestone stela bearing four incomplete lines of a demotic text partly damaged. Apparently the block was reused for other purposes.

13 Prof. S.P. Vleeming suggested to me that this title might be read as p3 šn' (?), "the baker" (see G. VITTMANN, "Zwei Spätzeittitel", SAK 21, 1994, p. 338-343), or p3 lpn (?), "the oarsman (?)".

14 For the tomb stelae, see A. FARID, op. cit, p. 245-266.

Commentary

• Line 1

The traces following the title Wsir are probably the first element of the name of the owner of the stela which continues on the next line.

-Phamenoth.....

• Line 2 The group 5 could be read H' or H'(.w>(?).

• Line 3

As for the dating, year 42 is more likely although the text is damaged and is not clear in this part. It might refer to the year 42 of the reign of Emperor Augustus (Feb.-... March 12th – 13th AD)<sup>15</sup>, especially that the stela has been reused and the archaeological proof denotes an early Roman dating to this tomb. The rest of the dating which comprises the day is broken.

Limestone stela TG 433

Tuna el-Gebel. Gallery C-C-4<sup>16</sup>. Season 1983. Provenance:

Material: Limestone.

Dimensions: Height: 23,5 cm; Width: 24,5 cm;

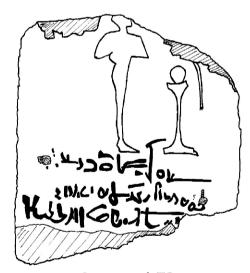

Maximum Thickness: 9 cm.

Bibliography: Unpublished. Content: Votive inscription. Dating: Early Ptolemaic.17

Description: Incomplete limestone stela. The upper part of the stela shows the figure of a god, probably Osiris, standing before an offering table. On the lower part, three demotic lines. The scene and the text are both engraved on the surface of the stela.

• Line 1

As for the personal name Ns-nḥm-'n, see Demot. Nb. I/9, p. 684. The following traces are probably a brief name or title following Ns-nhm-'n.

• Line 2

- The traces at the beginning of the line might be the first element of a personal name, it could be restored as [Dd-hr(?)-] as Prof. S.P. Vleeming proposed.
- As for the personal name Hr-nfr, see Demot. Nb. I/II, p. 824. The Group ₹M∠\ ♥ which followed the name with the definite article p3 might denote a title or profession. I have no satisfactory reading for this group.

• Line 3

- The traces preceding sm3-t3.wy are probably the first element of the personal name. 18 As for the personal name Sm3-t3.wy, see Demot. Nb. I/12, p. 924-925.

- Kunce p3 hy.t: The word p3 hy.t after the personal name [.....]-sm3-t3.wy could be taken as a title or as a profession. For further information on p3 hy.t, see W. Erichsen, Demotisches Glossar, p. 350; G. Vittmann, Der demotische Papyrus Rylands IX, I-II, ÄAT 38, 1998, p. 539-540 (P. Ryl. IX, col. XVIII, 1). As Prof. S.P. Vleeming suggested to me, this is probably to be taken as the noun discussed by G. Vittmann.

• Line 1

For the personal name Wr-diw, see Demot. Nb. I/3, p. 179. As for 'l (?), cf. W. Erichsen, Demotisches Glossar, p. 67.

• Line 2

For the personal name P3-dî-Wsîr, see Demot. Nb. I/5, p. 298-299. The personal name Nfr-sm3-t3.wy is not attested in Demot. Nb. I. Prof. S. P. Vleeming reads the first name P3-dî-îs.t instead of P3-dî-Wsîr and considered the god's determinative at the end of the name as mw.t(=f>: <his> mother, followed by the woman's name Nfr.(t>-sm3-t3.wy.

6. Limestone block TG 428.

Provenance: Tuna el-Gebel, gallery C-C-4, season 1983.

Material: Limestone.

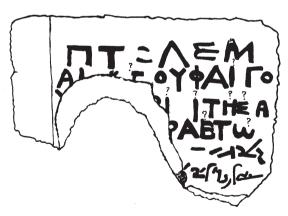

Dimensions: Height: 25 cm; Width: 34 cm; Maximum Thickness: 10 cm.

Bibliography: Unpublished. Content: Unclear.

Dating: Early Ptolemaic.

Description: Incomplete block of limestone in a bad state of preservation bearing six lines of bilingual Greek and demotic text, four Greek lines, and two lines of demotic text at the end. The demotic text is lost, except for two lines partly damaged.

6. Limestone block TG 428.

The demotic text

[1] t3 h.t n [] The tomb of []
[2] Wr s3 M3'-Dhwty [] Wr son of M3'-Dhwty []

• Line 2

The first element of the personal name could be read also  $\hat{I}^c h$ ; as for the personal name  $M3^c$ -Dhwty, see Demot. Nb. I/8, p. 583.

The Greek part 19

As for the Greek part of this text, the rough surface of the stone does not allow a coherent reading.

• Line 1

The reading:  $\Pi \tau[0] \lambda \epsilon \mu \alpha \hat{\imath}[0 \varsigma]$  or  $\alpha \hat{\imath}[0 \upsilon]$  seems possible. The space for 0 is a little bit too large.

Line 2-3
 The traces are weak; the reading: γυνη or similar can not be proved.

• Line 3

It is seducible to read ετων in combination with the age of the person following. But it is not possible to define the inscription as a tomb inscription.

It is uncertain if these are traces of another line above. In this case the stone must have been cut above secondary.
